Saxophonist Rick Margitza played and recorded with Miles Davis and has many records as leader on the Blue Note, Palmetto and Challenge labels. His latest is "Memento" (Palmetto Records) with Scott Coley, Brian Blade and Mulgrew Miller.

Born in Germany, Matthias Lupri grew up in Kansas and Alberta, Canada. He studied drums and began playing professionally as a teenager in blues, rock and country music bands. In his early 20's, while studying music in college, he became fascinated with jazz vibraphone music from listening to a recording of the legendary Gary Burton. Lupri recalls, "It totally changed my whole approach to music. For the next five years, while I was still on the road with rock bands, I would practice my vibes every day in my hotel room." Having found a new musical expression with the vibes, he enrolled at the Berklee College of Music in Boston to study with his mentor Gary Burton.

Lupri's debut CD "Window Up Window Down" (Chartmaker Jazz PDP1020) and "Shadow of the Vibe" both charted in the Top 40 Gavin and Top 15 CMJ Jazz Charts and recent performances include the Boston MIX Festival at Foxboro Stadium, Litchfield Festival, Boston Globe Festival, Knitting Factory in NYC, Top of the Senator in Toronto and CBC Montreal.

Lupri's CD's are available at all major record stores or can ordered online through his website at www.matthiaslupri.com [2], and www.amazon.com [3].
